Dear Parish Family

There's more about the wonderful pancake night in the pewslip. Huge congratulations to the Community Outreach Team for a spectacular result of $1,790 – it's not too late to contribute!

SUPERCAR EVENT: The other important news I want to draw to your attention is around Sunday March 12th. As the Supercar weekend is coming closer, parking conditions around the Cathedral are changing to bus zones and clearways. Please check where you are parking! On Sunday March 12th, there will be ONE EUCHARIST in the parish at St Peter's Hamilton (148 Dennison Street, Hamilton.) There will be no services at the Cathedral on that Sunday. The Cathedral will be open on Friday 10th March and Saturday 11th March, but the Cathedral Shop will not be open. There will be no onsite parking in the Cathedral grounds 10th March – 12th March.

The Cathedral Office will be closed on Friday 10th March.

PRAYERS: Please continue to pray for the peoples of the Republic of Türkiye and Syria following the devastating earthquakes.

I remain thankful that as a Parish Community we are committed to the ongoing work of being a safe, welcoming, inclusive, and affirming place for all. Thank you also for your ongoing prayers for our LGBTQIA+ community, at this time when their validity and identity is challenged and questioned.

WHAT'S HAPPENING...

ORGAN SCHOLAR: Information is on the Cathedral website, and there are some information and application packets available at the Cathedral. Please share this, and the Masterclass opportunity, widely! Please speak with David Banney if you would like more information, or to David Atherton if you would like to support this position financially.

LENTEN CONCERT SERIES: The Lenten Concert series started with a beautiful concert last Sunday, 'Gavin Clark plays Bach.' This Sunday's concert promises to be magnificent as well. Tickets available at the door, or online beforehand. Details in the pewslip.

LIVESTREAM: The easiest way to connect to the livestream is through the cathedral YouTube channel: <https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCXyas2uhJUNOnDetOpPdUOg>

ATTENDING WORSHIP: Please continue to be mindful of COVIDSafe practices as we gather, and to be mindful of our own health and vulnerabilities as well as those in our community. Please strongly consider wearing a mask in places, including church, where you feel you are not able to adequately maintain physical distancing.

The sacrament is administered in both kinds. You are welcome to receive in one or both kinds. We ask that you do not intinct (dip) the host.

Finally, this week's poem is by Lynn Ungar. Ungar is a Unitarian Universalist minister, based in Vancouver, Washington. I was searching for a poem to connect with our gospel reading for this weekend, and found this poem. Ungar cuts right to the chase from her opening lines: being born again, new birth, is a costly, often painful, endeavour. Her poem ends on a note of hope – walking into the light – a very apposite image for a Johannine gospel passage.

Born Again

Let's be clear about this:
It isn't the same as being sick and getting better. It isn't changing your mind at the last minute or pushing away from the brink.
The only way to be born again is to die. The Phoenix doesn't just go up in a blaze of glory. It feels the fire lick up and sizzle every feather, until each quill becomes a column of flame carried straight to the core.
Whatever the legend of re-birth, there is always
time in the fire, under the ground, hanging on the cross or the tree.
Don't skip over that part of the story.
If you would be reborn, you have to die.
But what then? After the dying
how are we to rise again into new life?
The earth, the hero, the god, you and I—
how does any of us find our way back from the Valley of the Shadow?
The same way we die:
Walk into the light.

Lynn Ungar

With my thanks and prayers,

Dean Katherine

Music notes

As we come to the second week in Lent we continue our focus on unaccompanied choral music, denying ourselves the rich comforts of the sound of the organ. On Sunday morning our Mass setting is by Novocastrian composer Sam Donovan, a long-time member of the Cathedral choir, and our anthem is a choral classic – ‘God so loved the world’ from Stainer’s oratorio The Crucifixion, while our introit is an indigenous hymn that takes up the same text.

We continue our exploration of church music in general by looking at something that we do every week, the singing of the Mass. The term Mass is not specifically a musical term, but a liturgical term, describing an act of worship that involves a particular sequence of prayers, readings and actions, and including the Eucharist. While there is some debate about this, it is generally thought that the term ‘Mass’ is derived from the word ‘missa’, which is part of the last sentence of the Roman liturgy – ‘Ita, missa est’, which can be translated as ‘Go, you are dismissed’. The word missa is related to our mission, and if this theory is the correct one, it is fascinating and instructive that the name for what we do on Sunday morning relates to our leaving church, rather than going to church. The Mass prepares us for mission, rather than being an end in itself. Mission is not the sole responsibility of the priest, but of all who attend the Mass, and arguably much more the responsibility of the congregation than of the priest.

Historically the ‘Missa’ consists of two interwoven components, the Ordinary (‘ordinarium’) and the Proper (‘proprium’). These are very strange words to our modern ears, with meanings that are definitely lost in translation, or more correctly lost in their evolution over the centuries. Surely there is nothing ‘ordinary’ about what we do, and who really wants to be ‘proper’?! We need to look to the original meanings of the words. Ordinarium means a sequence, or order of things – something that is done the same way every time. Proprium implies something chosen for a specific purpose. In the context of liturgy, the Ordinary of the Mass are the elements that are the same every week, which in our context include the Kyrie (in Lent and Advent), Gloria (except in Lent and Advent), Creed, Sanctus, Benedictus and Agnus Dei. The Proper of the Mass are those elements that change each week – the readings, the intercessions, the Introit and various other prayers.

Lent is a good time to think about the first element of the Ordinary – the Kyrie. The original text is Greek, reflecting its particularly ancient origin and its importance: the Roman church never saw it necessary to translate it into Latin. The text Kyrie eleison means Lord, have mercy, and it is interspersed with Christe eleison – Christ, have mercy. Traditionally the Kyrie eleison is sung three times, the Christe three times, and then the Kyrie a further three times, producing a ninefold pattern based on the nine angels of Revelation. Depending on the composer of each week’s setting, we sometimes sing Kyrie eleison, and sometimes Lord, have mercy. As the first part of the Ordinary of the Mass, the Kyrie is part of the rite of penitence. Next week we will explore the Sanctus and Benedictus - the next elements of the Mass as we sing it during Lent.

PRAYER FOR UKRAINE

Dean Katherine attended a Requiem Liturgy at the Ukrainian Catholic Church last Friday evening, to join in prayer with the Ukrainian community for the people of Ukraine on the first anniversary of the invasion.

It was also an important opportunity to hear first hand reports of suffering and destruction, and of resilience and courage.

Dean Katherine took gifts of love and prayer from the Cathedral parish community. Nicolette Thomas created a beautiful towel with a blue and yellow cross. There was also a bouquet of sunflowers with blue irises; sunflowers being the Ukrainian flower, and the blue irises for the blue in the Ukrainian flag.

These gifts, and our prayerful solidarity, were greatly appreciated by the Ukrainian community. Glory be to Jesus Christ. Glory to Ukraine.

Outstanding organist Lukas Hasler will give a recital on the Christ Church Cathedral organ, with a rich variety of popular classics including Bach's Toccata and Fugue, Hasler's own arrangement of Beethoven's Moonlight Sonata, and music of Mozart, Mendelssohn and Saint-Saëns.

Art and Spirituality Workshop

23 March 2023

Creation of art provides an opportunity for a deepening awareness of oneself and the world and can act as a catalyst for evoking the Spirit.

Art is a means to see-to-re-search and find the living meaning of what it means to open the heart. Everyone has the ability to create art, but in order for it to be theological, the artist needs to explore ways that it makes sense of faith. Opening the heart through art involves making meaning through the creation, then reflecting on the art itself and the unfolding the moment-to-moment direct experience of the process.

This workshop will provide an opportunity to awaken the Spirit through the beauty of God's creation, prayer, and reflection. Participants will engage in art making experiences which will nourish their faith.

ABM Lent Appeal 2023

The 2023 Lent and Good Friday Appeal supports the work of the Anglican Diocese of Jerusalem via the outreach of the Ahli Hospital in Gaza and a new youth empowerment project.

Shorouq is a young mother, who lives in one of the most marginalised parts of Gaza City. Her two-year-old daughter, Hala, was screened and selected to be part of the Ahli's child nutrition program to address her malnutrition.

In Shorouq's words, "My husband is unemployed, and we are living in deplorable conditions. We are unable to meet our fundamental demands. We are completely reliant on [United Nations] food assistance, which is insufficient because we also require medicine and cash to purchase other necessities.

"I heard about the free nutrition program that Ahli Arab Hospital implemented... The Ahli was a compassionate and delightful place for us as they cared for my daughter and provided us with the necessary medications, vitamins, and biscuits that supported her quick recovery."

As well as being good news for little Hala, the Ahli's program was also good news for Shorouq on a more personal level, as she received health and nutrition training both in her home and her community from women community trainers (mobilisers) who have been especially trained by the Ahli.

Shorouq continues: "I acquired more and more knowledge; my health awareness increased through the Ahli's 'woman-to-woman approach'. Their community mobiliser visited me twice a month, correcting my misconceptions and wrong health behaviours, and improving my communication skills, and gender and protection concepts. All of this knowledge and skills positively impacted my life.

"After participating in the individual awareness workshops, I became stronger, I can face the injustice that may occur, and I can protect myself alone. My awareness of my rights and responsibilities was raised; I am capable of solving my problems alone now. I have good communication channels and dialogue with my husband... And I succeeded to change some negative behaviours for myself and my husband such as helping me in the home, since I have a risky pregnancy.

"Many thanks to the Ahli Hospital and to AID, and to all the people who care for vulnerable groups and provide assistance to the needy," Shorouq remarks graciously.

Your support of this appeal will empower many vulnerable women like Shorouq, and will give their children a much greater chance of a healthy life.
